Former President Donald Trump shared a video Monday night to Truth Social that compared him to a lion, who will 'run like the wind' and 'tear the s*' out of opponents

The video was created by the United Spot and used footage from Trump's January 2017 inauguration and a voiceover from Christopher Walken from the movie Poolhall Junkies

Democrats, including the House impeachment managers from Trump's first impeachment, were branded in the video as 'jackals' and 'hyenas'

'You got this lion. He's the king of the jungle, huge mane out to here. He's laying under a tree, in the middle of Africa. He's so big, it's so hot. He doesn't want to move,' Walken says.

The video shows imagery from Trump's 2017 inauguration day, first showing the new president, First Lady Melania Trump and son Barron walking in the Pennsylvania Avenue inaugural parade, and later at the Capitol Building for the swearing-in ceremony.

'Now the little lions come, they start messing with him. Biting his tail, biting his ears. He doesn't do anything,' Walken continues. 'The lioness, she starts messing with him. Coming over, making trouble. Still nothing.'

'Now the other animals, they notice this. They start to move in,' the actor says. 'The jackals, hyenas.'

It also showed footage of House Speaker Nancy Pelosi (right) ripping up Trump's (center) State of the Union speech behind his back

The Republican 'jackals' included House January 6 committee members Reps. Liz Cheney (left) and Adam Kinzinger (right)

It ends by showing triumphant imagery of Trump (pictured), with Walken saying 'that lion gets up and tears the s out of everybody. Runs like the wind, eats everything in his path'

The video then flips to footage of the Democratic impeachment managers from Trump's first impeachment.

It shows Pelosi at an impeachment press conference - and then her tearing up Trump's State of the Union speech directly directly behind his back.

'They're barking at him, laughing at him. They nip his toes, and eat the food that's in his domain,' Walken continues. 'They do this, then they get closer and closer, bolder and bolder.'

The video shows imagery of Reps. Liz Cheney and Adam Kinzinger, the only two Republicans serving on the January 6 committee.

'Till one day, that lion gets up and tears the s out of everybody,' Walken says, as the video flashes back to Trump. 'Runs like the wind, eats everything in his path.'
